LEADERSHIP INITIATIVES

Mitigating climate change, sustainable conferencing

- I co-organized and am the first signatory of the 2 + 1 Campaign (2021 – 2022) by the Philosophers for Sustainability to tangibly reduce our CO2 footprint by having one of the APA divisionary conferences virtual on a rotating basis
<https://www.philosophersforsustainability.com/apa-2-plus-1-campaign/>
- My opinion piece and rationale for this in the APA blog: <https://blog.apaonline.org/2021/07/15/the-case-for-alternating-in-person-and-virtual-conferences/>
- Official initial APA response to the campaign: <https://www.apaonline.org/news/577355/>
- Implementation: <https://www.apaonline.org/news/610518/APA-announces-21-experiment-and-virtual-meetings-committee.htm>
- Participation in a filmed webinar for the APA on sustainable conferencing (4 Nov 2022) and a panel discussion on 29 April 2023 for the Philosophy & Climate Crisis Conference

Mentoring and identifying alt-ac opportunities job candidates in philosophy

- I co-directed (w/ Marcus Arvan) The Philosophers' Cocoon mentoring Program, a job market mentoring project for under-represented and under-resourced philosophers, matching about 20 mentees/mentors pairs per season, 2015–2021
- I was a mentor for the Job Candidate Mentoring Program for Women in Philosophy, 2015 – 2018
- I was the curator of Doing Things with Philosophy, an alt-ac philosophy blog, 2016 – 2019, <https://doingthingswithphilosophy.tumblr.com/>
- I co-authored, with Marcus Arvan, The Philosophers' Cocoon Job Market Boot Camp, a guide for philosophers for going on the academic job market.
- I have interviewed philosophers in industry and non-ac non-profit sector, <https://www.newappsblog.com/2014/06/philosophers-who-work-outside-of-academia-part-1-how-and-why-do-they-end-up-there.html>
- Press coverage of my interviews in The Atlantic: <https://www.theatlantic.com/business/archive/2014/07/what-do-philosophers-do/374036/>

- Press coverage in Philosopher's Magazine (2015), <https://www.philosophersmag.com/essays/68-philosophers-who-have-found-success-outside-academia>

Promoting religious free expression and refugee rights

- I coordinated an open letter for the asylum case of Hamza bin Walayat in the UK, who was denied asylum due to his lack of knowledge of Aristotle and Plato. The letter was signed by academics around the world. I also helped to organize expert testimonies in his appeal case. This led to an overturning of the decision, as Hamza was granted indefinite leave to remain, and it also resulted in new Home Office directives for assessing asylum cases on religious grounds.
- Our letter, published in the Guardian: <https://www.theguardian.com/world/2018/jan/26/you-dont-need-to-know-plato-and-aristotle-to-be-a-humanist>
- Press coverage of our campaign: <https://www.theguardian.com/uk-news/2018/jan/26/philosophers-urge-rethink-of-pakistani-humanist-hamza-bin-walay-at-asylum>

Making philosophy more global and inclusive

- I am curator of a list of testimonies of philosophers around the world, entitled The Philosophers Cocoon goes Global. The aim is to show institutional context in which academic philosophy is practiced in different countries <https://philosopherscocoon.typepad.com/blog/the-cocoon-goes-global/>
- With Natalja Deng, and thanks to funding from Yujin Nagasawa (via the Templeton Foundation), I co-organized a conference Philosophy of Religion in Asia, Seoul, Republic of Korea, March 31–April 1 2023, which aims to broaden philosophy of religion by including more philosophers from Asian countries. The conference also includes a publication seminar with advice on how to publish in English-language philosophy of religion journals.

Diversifying the profession

- In 2014, Eleonore Stump and I petitioned the board of the APA for a code of conduct, with a specific eye to countering gender and sexual harassment in the profession. The code was adopted following our open letter, see here <http://www.apaonline.org/general/custom.asp?page=codeofconduct>
- From 2013 to 2018, I curated a list of core readings in philosophy by female authors for Undergraduate Curricula, hosted by the APA, http://www.apaonline.org/?page=teaching_resources

- We held to account the journal Philosophical Psychology for publishing a paper that did not engage sufficiently with the relevant scholarship and reached a racist conclusion. Our paper was published (see publication list) in that journal and our actions helped to lead to the resignation of one of the editors-in-chief, later followed by the instatement of a new editorial board and a new editorial leadership, <https://dailynous.com/2020/06/24/controversy-philosophical-psychology-leads-editors-resignation/>
